The Registrar of the International Criminal Court (the “Court”);

NOTING Trial Chamber III’s “Decision on common legal representation of victims for the purpose of the trial” dated 10 November 2010 (the “Decision on common legal representation”),¹ authorising the Registry to designate two common legal representatives from the Central African Republic to represent the totality of the victims allowed to participate in the present case;

NOTING the Registrar’s “Corrigendum to Notification of designation of common legal representatives”² designating Mr Assingambi Zarambaud and Ms Marie Edith Douzima Lawson as legal representatives for all victims participating in the present case;

NOTING Trial Chamber III’s “Corrigendum to the Decision on 401 applications by victims to participate in the proceedings and setting a final deadline for the submission of new victims’ applications to the Registry”³ (the “Decision”) granting participating status to 307 applicants;

NOTING article 68(1) of the Rome Statute; rules 90(2) to 90(5) of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence, and article 16 of the Code of Professional Conduct for Counsel;

CONSIDERING that no conflict of interests has so far arisen in the representation of victims allowed to participate in the present case, that article 16 of the Code of Professional Conduct for Counsel obliges legal representatives to ensure that no such conflict arises and, in case of difficulties or objections raised by a victim during the

INVITES Mr Assingambi Zarambaud and Ms Marie Edith Douzima Lawson to clearly indicate to the Registry and the Chamber if the current assignment of their clients to the existing groups results in separating them from their respective family or community. Where such a separation is not recommended, this should also be indicated, and briefly motivated;

INVITES both legal representatives to inform the Registry and the Chamber subsequently should any conflict of interests occur in the future;

INVITES the former legal representatives of the victims authorized to participate to take the necessary steps for the transmission of the files in their possession to the relevant newly appointed common legal representatives;
