Dear Counsel:

In regard to the below request, noting that the counsel representing the victim does not object, the Prosecution is authorised to disclose a lesser redacted version of the relevant application to the Defence.

Following this disclosure, the Prosecution is to provide this lesser redacted confidential application to the Registry. The Registry is ordered to file it in the case record accordingly, as has been ordered for a/05330/15 and a/05154/15 (see attached Email from Trial Chamber IX Communications on 5 June 2017 at 17:39, with attachments removed).

Best,

Trial Chamber IX

Subject: Victim applications filing

P-0280 will be giving evidence tomorrow.

There is one victim's application in the possession of the Prosecution which is relevant to the testimony he may give and which should be disclosed to the Defence on the same basis as that set out in my email of 31 May. It is attached. The Prosecution have communicated with Mr Cox, who represents the person who made the application, and I understand that without prejudice to any future position he may take on the general issue of the disclosure of applications such as this, he is content that a lesser redacted version of this particular application can be communicated to the Defence.

In these circumstances I ask for leave to do so.

As noted previously, the Prosecution acknowledges that this 'piecemeal' approach is unsatisfactory. A comprehensive filing for the applications related to the remaining witnesses has been drafted and is being checked. It should be filed before the end of this week.
